Jeff Broadbent has composed a bold and powerful score for Sony Online's massive multiplayer online first-person-shooter PlanetSide 2, with additional music composed by Don Ferrone. Each of the three different military factions in the game has their own unique sonic approach. The imperialistic Terran Republic features authoritarian orchestra and choir, recorded by the Northwest Sinfonia. The rebellious New Conglomerate is represented by a unique blend of blues, rock, and modern percussion. The spiritual Vanu Sovereignty showcases an eclectic blend of cutting-edge electronics, ethnic winds, and haunting exotic vocals.

PlanetSide 2 enables thousands of players to choose a faction and engage in epic galactic warfare, battling over the future of the planet Auraxis. Hailed by PC Gamer magazine as "the most ambitious shooter ever" and recipient of numerous 2012 E3 awards, PlanetSide 2 is poised to conquer the gaming world by force.

PRESS COMMENTARY

"PlanetSide 2 is expertly scored by Jeff Broadbent... Each faction receives its own flair in the music department... Sound Score: 95/100 - Outstanding" Ten Ton Hammer

"The sounds and music are also great. Each faction has unique music that fits well with the ideology of the faction." Game Stooge

"Sound Score = 9.0/10" Now Gamer

"Kickass music." The Balance
